to 2, in a game that was never in doubt after the first inning. Donahue and Eason were the opposing pitchers, and Donahue had all the better of the argument. He was hit once oftener than Eason, but was invincible when bits would have meant runs.

Donahue passed but two men, neither coring, while Eason sent five to first on balls and hit one with the ball. Of his five passes, Jesse Burkett was the recipient of four, three of them later developing into runs through timely hitting by Heidrick and Hemphill and Burkett's splendld base running.

While the Tigers had no chance to win the game, St. Louis did not deserve seven runs. One run was carned, and the rest presented the Browns by dumb fielding and bad pitching, coupled with some fine work on the bases by the Browns.

BURKETT MAKES FEATURE PLAY. The feature play of the game came up right at the start. Burkett walked and right at the start. Burkett waiked and when Heidrick attempted to sacrifice McAllister fell down. Hemphili then sacrificed the two runners to second and third. When Wallace hit to Elberfeld. Burkett started for home, but was caught on the line, he dodged back and forth finally getting back to third in safety, only to find Heidrick there.

to third in safety, only to find Heldrick there.

The latter started back to second with nearly the entire Detroit team after him: Buelow finally made a wild throw into center field, both Burkett and Heldrick scoring and Wallace reaching third, where he died. Every "Tiger" player except Crawford and Carr was in the play at some stage.

After that, nothing was doing until the sixth, when singles by Anderson and McCormick and a double steal netted another run. In the seventh, Burkett's third pass, a hit and fielders' choice netted another, and in the ninth, three more came on Burkett's last pass, three hits and some good base running.

when he offiled to the ninth, three more came on Burkett's last pass, three hits and some good base running.

TWO HITS OFF DONAHUE.

The Tigers got just two hits off Donahue until the seventh. In that period, three hits netted one run, and in the next another came, when three more hits were bunched. Mullen was sent in for Eason in the minth and poked out a single, but the next man was casy.

Mullin and Slevers will oppose each other to-morrow.

Both teams will depart on a special train for St. Louis immediately after the game, reaching there at 7:20 Saturday morning.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Brooklyn, May 28.-Beaten, graced. Such was the verdict of the work of the St. Louis team in their last match against the Brooklyns at Washington Park this afternoon. By only one run were the Cardinals defeated, the score being 5 to 4. The visitors, for the second consecutive time, played an errorless game. Seldom is such a feat performed, and that, at least to some extent, sweetens their otherwise sour trip. In to-day's game they made three double plays that were so sharp as to call forth much applause, Defeat came through inability to connect with Evans's curves. Besides this, Manager Hanlon made two changes that helped the Brooklyns. Ritter took Ahearn's place behind the bat in the fourth inning and Jordan replaced Strang at third in the fifth. DONOVAN BATS WELL.

With only six hits, two of which were With only six hits, two of which were made by Donovan, the Cardinais could hardly expect to win. Especially was this true, as the Brooklyns obtained twelve safe drives off Saunders.

The Cardinais obtained a lead of 4 to 0 in the early innings and seemed to be in a fair way to wind up their Eastern trip with two games out of the three from Brooklyn.

In the second inning Hackett walked. Nichols sacrificed. Williams filed to Dobbs, after which Weaver singled to left, scoring Hackett.

Their fourth and last run was made in the fourth inning. In the last half of this inning the Brooklyns began the work at the bat. Sheckard beat out a grounder to Brain. Dobbs walked. SULLIVAN LOST TO FELTZ ON FOUL BLOW eleventh round of the battle at the West End Club last evening, Tommy Sullivan was disqualified and lost the verdict to Tom my Feltz, Referee Sharpe deciding that the Savannah fighter had been palpably fouled. While unpopular with Sullivan's supporters, the verdict was absolutely correct.

Twice in preceding rounds Sullivan land d low blows while attempting left uppercuts, and several times he sent in blows ac companying a shift which seemed danger ously near the foul line. In the eleventh round, while stepping back from Feltz's ead, he sent in a left uppercut which landed low on Feltz's groin and clearly hurt the Savannah man.

So quickly was the blow delivered that many of the spectators falled to understand the motive for ordering Sullivan to his corner. Feltz was doubled up by the blow and Sullivan's partisans commenced to shout for an examination, and the crowd swarmed around the ring in a high state of excite ly examined Feltz, and their decision upheld the verdict of the referee.

Doctor Marks admitted that Feltz showed signs of a severe low blow in the groin, but vannah man was disabled or not. The other sufficient to have put Feltz out of the run-two physicians believed that the blow was sufficient to have put Feltz out of the running. in a few moments, when a swelling appeared on the injured spot. Feltz was able to walk a short time after the blow was delivered, but was stiff and lame while in his dressing-room.

That the foul was severe was apparent Up to the time the punch was delivered. Sullivan had decidedly the better of the fighting. He managed to keep Feltz helpiless at close range by clever blocking and landed victous swings and punches to the Southerner's face in the meanwhile. Practically every round to the time of the stoppage was in Sullivan's favor.

Feltz took the hard blows without wincing, however and was always there with an attempt to land, smilling as Sullivan's blows ripped into his face or body.

He was just as persistent in the closing round as in the opening period, and Sullivan's punches had cearly not weakened him. Feltz's eye was opened with a left book toward the end, but the Savannah man was still boring in with his eternal; smile.

Several times Sullivan landed punches which seemed capable of settling the bout. He would send in cracks that could be heard all over the house, repeatedly made Tommy's head rock with the violence of his landing, and uppercut in the stomach until the sound seemed like a punch on a drum. Feltz bored in just the same, and was boring in when the foul blow landed.

As a result of the spectators swarming into the ring, the police were obliged to clear the inclosure for the doctors to do their work. Violent protests were made by the Sullivan faction, while the Feltz contingent loudly cheered the verdict.

Fouls seemed to run in the course of the evening, as Dan Haiey was disqualified in the fifth round of his fight with Johnny Hogan. Haley not only slipped to the floor without being hit, but his seconds swarmed into the ring as well, loudly claiming that Hogan had landed a foul blow. On this double provocation, Haiey was disqualified by Referee Sharpe.

OFFICERS SELECTED FOR ATHLETIC MEET.

as Judges for the Track Events.

TIMERS CAREFULLY CHOSEN.

C. B. C. Authorities Desire All Records to Be Undisputed -Scholastic Meet To-Morrow.

Officers have been selected for the State athletic meet, to be held to-morrow afternoon at the Christian Brothers' campus, and R. J. Leacock has been decided upon as referee. Mr. Leacock is well known locally, and his appointment was unanimously favored by the competing colleges. Three field and three track judges have also been selected. Joseph L. Ferguson, Doctor Charles Still and Steve Kane will judge the track events, while T. R. Bland, George Dougherty and Edward Murphy will decide the field events. Warren Hamilton, James King, Charles F. Stephens and F. X. Green will serve as timers. The gentlemen selected as timers have has experience in this line and are favorably known. The officials are anxious that time in the dashes should be absolutely correct, owing to some question of the records made in previous athletic events. Comment has been raised after the various school meets by the sensational time in which mere boys run the 100 yards. Ten second flat seems to be as easy for young schoolboys as for Arthur Duffy, and ten and one-fifth seconds is mere play for the scholastic athletes. Over exactly the same course college athletes have trouble in running in :10 3-5.

course college athletes have trouble in running in 103-5.

This state of affairs is bound to cause criticism of the time and the men who hold the watches to-morrow, have been selected for their experience. Their verdict will certainly be accepted as final. As an explanation of the fast time made by the scholastic performers, it is suggested that possibly the timers on those occasions started their watches from the report of the pistol instead of from the flash. This would make a difference of several fractions of a second in the recorded time.

Doctor Herman Goetz and Frank Brockmeyer is one of the family which has sent so many representatives to the colege. Jimmy Riordan, who will appear on the programme under the dignified title of "James" Riordan, official scorer, is the same Riordan that is inseparable from footwall—Association and Rugby.

Joseph Withers, James Lynch and Charles O'Donoghue will be cierks of the course. William Foley, whose reputation in baseball has made him familiar, will serve as one announcer, and S. Kirk Crawford will officiate as the other. Frank O'Malley will occupy the position of bugler.

Athletes from Warrensburg and Kirkswille will arrive this evening and will have a night's rest before going out to the campus.

High School and Smith Academy boys seem likely to have the interscholastic meet very much their own way to-morrow. Both schools have shown remarkable performances in the running races, and the weight men have appeared to greater advantage than ever before. Marsh Boothby of High School has been doing well in the distance events, and the mile run should go to High School on this account.

Stanard and Lamb should furnish one of the most interesting contests of the day when they tie up in the weight events. Both, men have done wonderfully well for schlastic competitors, and both have shown about equal ability.

When the styles of the men are considered, it seems that Lamb has a trifle the advantage. He throws the hammer in a much easier fashion than Stanard. The latter does not let himself go and wastes some strength on account of this failing. If Stanard has been taught to relax himself since the Smith Academy field day, he should win the hammer throw. Already, throwing awkwardly, he has covered a greater distance than has Lamb.

Both meets promise good contests. The interscholastic competitions will be held at the Pastime grounds.

DISASTER PUTS THE CONSTITUTION OUT.

Ferguson, Still and Kane Selected | Topmast Snaps in Twain on the First Leg of Course, Compelling Her to Give Up Race.

RELIANCE DEFEATS COLUMBIA.

Takes the Lead From the Start and Defeats the Pride of Former Years by More Than Eight Minutes.

New York, May 28.-The Constitution's noodoo almost spoiled the race of the trio of cup defenders in Long Island Sound to day. After sailing nine miles of the first leg of the race the Constitution's topmas was carried away in a little puff of wind and she was out of it for the day.

When the accident occurred the Constitu tion was half a mile behind the Reliance and was leading the Columbia by an equa distance. Reliance and Columbia finished the race, but it had become a procession for Columbia was never formidable after the first five miles had been sailed. Reliance crossed the finish line a winner by eigh ainutes and twenty-seven seconds.

Constitution had sailed a game race until the accident. She had been handled skillful ly, but had been unable to hold the fast in the position he coveted on the windward quarter of the Reliance, though Captain Barr had sent the Reliance the whole length of the starting line clear to the mark opposite the committee boat before he would give way and permit the Constitution to cross and take that position.

DISASTER TO CONSTITUTION. After a bit of jockeying at the starting line, Captain Rhodes put the Constitution in the position he coveted on the windward

The luffing game continued after the starting line was crossed and until the Reliance's superior speed had pulled her out of a bad position. Then twenty minutes after the start the two rivals kept off for the turning mark. The Constitution was carrying a big balloon jib topsail, while the other boats wore smaller reaching ones.

Reliance had drawn away half a mile on the Constitution when the latter felt the disastrous puff. The starboard upper spreader, which stiffened the topmast, gave way and the hollow wooden top mast snapped off eight feet above the main mast head. The broken spar, together with the club topsail pole, the balloon jig topsail and the topmast rigging, hung suspended by the club topsail. across the main peak halvards. The topsail was torn half across its width by the falling gear, but none of the spars had struck the deck.

COLUMBIA BEATEN BADLY.

The yacht was hove to and the wreckage

The yacht was hove to and the wreckage quickly cleared away. August Belmont, her quickfy cleared away. August Beimont, her managing owner, who was on board, said that the Constitution's spare topmast was in Bristol and that he did not expect to get it in time to sail in Saturday's race. No one had been injured. Clear of the wreckage, the Constitution came limping home under her lower sails.

Reliance beat the Columbia four minutes and fifty-two seconds on the first leg and thirty seconds on the second leg. The last leg was a long slant close hauled, fetching the finishing line without a tack or pinching too closely into the wind. It was the pretitest spectacle of the day, for the wind had freshened to twelve knots and the Reliance had her lee rail down into the froth and was reeling off eleven knots to the hour while the pride of former years dragged a mile and a half astern. Reliance had beaten her three minutes and five seconds on that leg.
